complaint of A. J. Hill for assault and battery, forfeited the $10 he put up for bis appearance.

F. C. Olsen is the man who was arrested July 2, charged with assault and battery, in that he severely beat with a horsewhip a 13-year-old boy named John Howard. The facts were that young Howard and Some other boys pelted Olsen with green apples as he was passing their lot in his buggy. This made Olsen very mad and he caught Howard and beat him so severely that the welts are still visible on his body. The boys admitted they had thrown apples at the defendant with the intention of having some fan at his expense, and gave their testimony in a very straightforward manner. The justice considered that Olsen had some provocation, but that he had dealt too severely with the lad, and fined him $5. The boys, he thought, were not bad boys and were well under the control of their parents. Frank Brown, Henry White, Charles Miller and George Patterson were fined $2 each for stealing a ride from Grand Junction on the Rio Grande Western railway.
